

DIGGING DEEP

AFTERNOONS OF ENLIGHTENING DISCUSSION

Thursday 11 March, 4pm–5.30pm

Cultivating a Culture of Care

Hear Jamie and Tish Feilden:

Founders of Jamie's Farm on the importance of staff culture in their organisation.

James Westhead chairs a discussion:

"If organisations are to thrive, should we care more about the wellbeing of adult professionals or should they just toughen up?"

Featuring:

Steve Chalke, Founder and Leader of Oasis global

Benna Waites, Consultant Clinical Psychologist and Joint Head of Psychology, Counselling and Arts Therapies for Aneurin Bevan University Health Board

Ruth Young, Head of Farm, Jamie's Farm, Hereford

Andy Holmes, Global Head of Wellbeing, RB

In conversation:

Damien Stork (Founder of CHX, Reframing Organisational Mental Health) and Jake Curtis (Deputy CEO, Jamie's Farm) talk about creating positive staff cultures – from senior leadership teams of large corporations, through to smaller not for profit social enterprises and charities.

Plus:

Voices of young people talking to Tish Feilden about the moments that matter.
